

Flanderwell Primary School History End of Year 5

At the end of year five I will know and remember...

- Ancient Athens is where democracy began.
- The Olympics were first held in Ancient Greece. The idea for the marathon also originates from this time.
- The Ancient Greeks worshipped many gods and goddesses. Festivals and ceremonies were held to please them.
- There are lots of myths that originate from this time, including the Trojan War.
- I say who Alexander the Great was and what impact he had on life in Greece.
- I can use a timeline to order a number of significant events from ancient Greek times.
- I can compare similarities and difference between life in ancient Athens and life in ancient Sparta and life now by using primary and secondary sources.
- I can begin to say how useful sources are.

Early Islamic Civilisation

- Say who Muhammad was and know that he was the founder of Islam.
- Know some key facts about Baghdad and give some reasons to explain how it became a major world power.
- Give some reasons to explain how the work of the early Islamic doctors impacted on modern medicine.
- I can say what the House of Wisdom was and how it was used a centre for learning.
- Describe some other important discoveries and inventions that came from the early Islamic civilisation.
- • Describe some features and styles of Islamic art
- I can explain and give varied examples of how life was similar and different in the past and begin to give reasons for these.
- I can identify historically significant people and events from a period of history and give some detail about what they did/what happened and what impact it had.

- During the 20th century, working conditions became better for many people. Working hours were limited and workers were entitled to holidays. People had more free time and often more money to spend on doing things they enjoyed.
- Holidays at the seaside were popular, as were holiday camps. As air travel became more affordable, more people went on holidays abroad.
- Seeing and taking part in sport became easier for most people. Sport was made available on radio and television, and more sports facilities were built.
- Music technology developed so that by the end of the century, music could be listened to anywhere. Popular music became more accessible and reflected the mood of society at the time.
- Cinema experienced a golden age in which lots of famous films were created. Television also developed to entertain people at home.
- Computer games developed from universities to arcades and finally, to people's homes. Portable games were available by the end of the century.
